

Work This Space

February – March 2015 at Phoenix Brighton

Project space for artists:

- Artists will have the opportunity to use the large north gallery space to develop new, large-scale work and prepare projects.
- Phoenix Brighton will feature the artist on the Gallery page of the PB website, with background information, images, updates and links to the artist's website. PB will also use social media to advertise the project.
- Artists will have 24 access to the space; they will be responsible for ensuring the building is secure and front doors kept locked when they are working in the gallery. Please note that this scheme is not for holding public exhibitions but rather for developing new work. However, specific public events may be scheduled in consultation with Phoenix Brighton (see below)
- The artist can (subject to agreement with PB) schedule a public opening session (2 – 3 hours) when visitors can come to the gallery to meet the artist and see work in progress. An invigilator will need to be booked for the session.
- A deposit of £100 and an administrative fee of:

Individual artists - £60 / £50 conc
Groups of up to 6 artists - £120 / £100 conc.
per week will be charged.
The deposit will be returned once the gallery is restored to the condition at the start of occupation and key(s) returned to the office.
- Please be aware that the gallery space is not heated, so you will need to dress warmly.

To apply: Please send a brief description of your project, a representative image of your current work, and your desired dates to: info@phoenixbrighton.org

If you are offered a space in the programme, you will be asked to provide further materials for publicity purposes.
