Work in Progress: Towards Inclusion

7 March – 26 April 2020

Open Weds – Sun 11:00 – 17:00

Free entry

The Rocket Artists' gallery take-over is an evolving exploration of the relationships between artists, audiences and gallery space.

This seven-week exhibition invites you to choose from expanding weekly menus of art and activity, led by artists with diverse practices, for diverse audiences. Look out for a timetabled programme and expect pop-up events such as:

Artists' walks

Durational Curators

Meet the Maker

Thinking-through-doing workshops

Collaborative happenings and inclusive interventions

Work in Progress is presented by Phoenix Art Space in partnership with Rockets Artists, an inclusive group of artists who face and challenge barriers around art, inclusion, diversity, learning and communication. They work from their not-for-profit supported studios.

Project partners and contributors also include Amaze, Carousel and MyMarc. The exhibition and associated programme of activities is supported by Arts Council England, our community partners and private donors.

Details of the accompanying programme of discussions, workshops and activities will be available at phoenixbrighton.org
